The famous Pochampally saris are woven in the small cluster of villages around Hyderabad in Andhra Pradesh. This cluster includes the villages of Pochampally, Kayalagudem, Puttapet, Elank, and Chantapet. The tradition of weaving these saris in these villages has been passed on from one generation to another.

These sarees are usually woven from pure silk. The silk used in these sarees is brought from Bangalore while the gold or the golden thread is brought from Surat. Motifs such as elephants, flowers, parrots and diamonds are traditionally used in these sarees. The weavers are, however, developing new designs keeping in view the changing trends and the preferences of the customers.
