

which later came to be known as the Maheshwar saree. These sarees were supposed to be a special gift for the royal relatives and guests who visited the

