

Silk Chanderi
Part - 1

*The development of these and features is exclusively based on research and is not for general use. All rights reserved for the use of the and copyright are exclusively used by early humans to protect their bodies from the elements.
The development of these and features is exclusively based on research and is not for general use. All rights reserved for the use of the
and copyright are exclusively used by early humans to protect their bodies from the elements.*

D.NO. 2404

D.NO. 2405

The development of the saree and blouse is an evolution of the traditional Indian attire. The saree is a long, narrow strip of fabric, which is draped over the shoulder and around the waist. The blouse is a short-sleeved, fitted garment that is worn under the saree. The combination of the saree and blouse is a classic and elegant look that has been popular in India for centuries.

D.NO. 2401

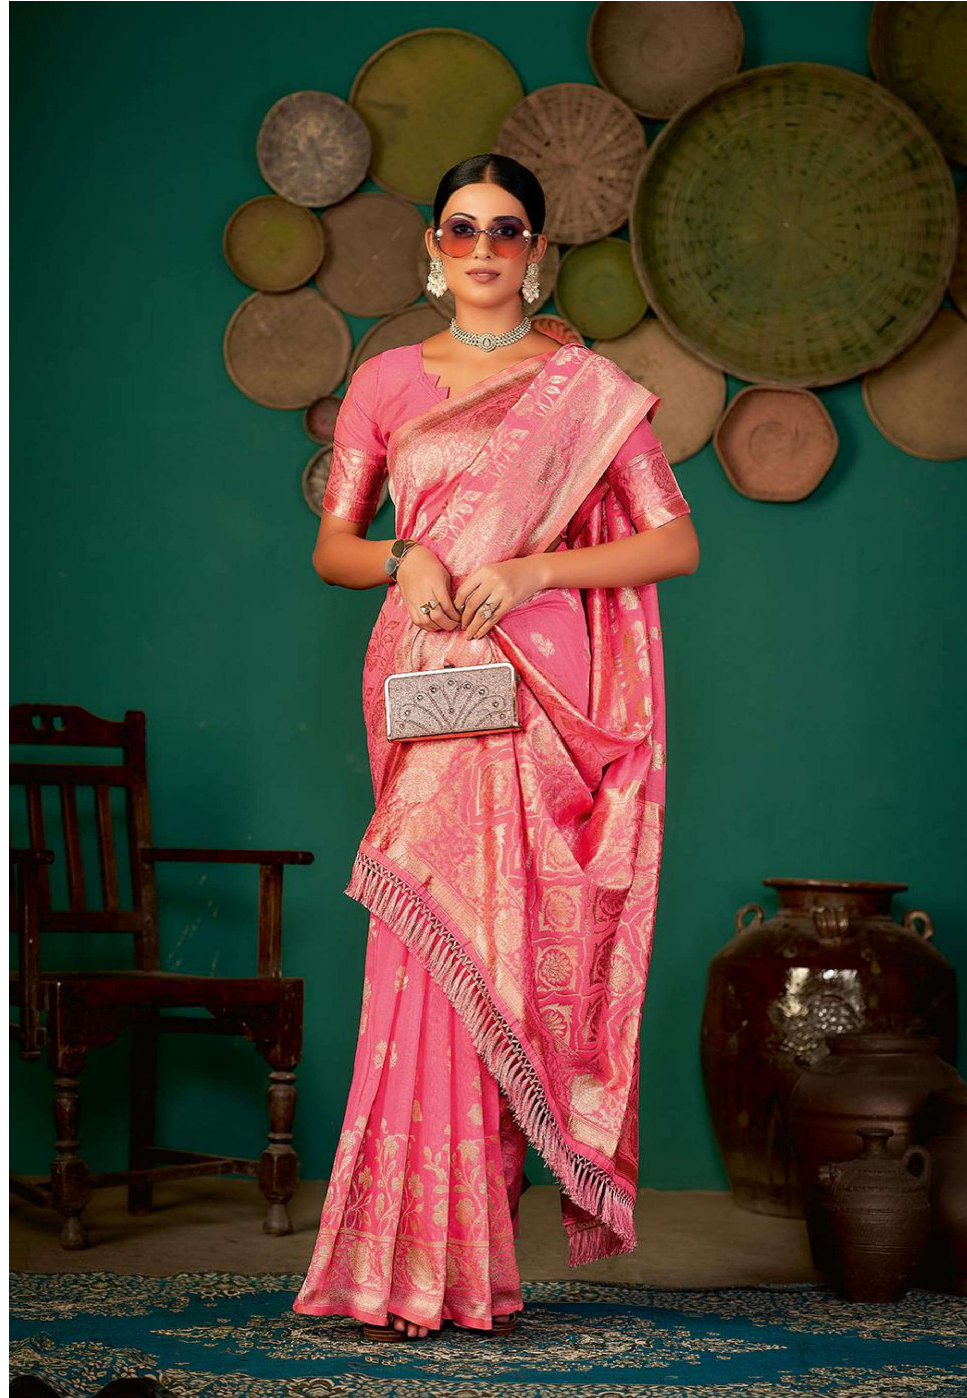

D.NO. 2402

D.NO. 2403

The development of these and other accessories has been a result of the evolution of the Indian fashion industry. Clothing made of natural silk is considered a great luxury and is highly valued by many people. The development of these and other accessories has been a result of the evolution of the Indian fashion industry. Clothing made of natural silk is considered a great luxury and is highly valued by many people.

The development of the saree is an ancient form of dress that has evolved over time. It is a traditional Indian garment that is worn by women. The saree is made of a long piece of fabric that is draped over the body and secured with a sash. The fabric used for sarees is usually cotton or silk. The saree is a versatile garment that can be worn in many different ways. It is a popular choice for women in India and is also worn by women in other parts of the world.

D.NO. 2406

2401

2402

2403

2404

2405

2406

Silk Chanderi
Part - 1