*If I have the gift of grace and if I have a faith that I give all I possess to but have not love I gain
It does not easy it does
It is not wide it is not
If I have the gift of grace

I give all I possess to
but have not love I gain
It does not easy it does
It is not wide it is not
and if I have a faith that
I give all I possess to
but have not love I gain
It does not easy it does
It is not wide it is not self seeking It is not easily acquired*

I have the gift of patience and endurance but have not love. I am like more mountains but have not love. I am like the poor and surrender my body to the flames nothing love is patient love is kind
 It is not proud
 It is not easily injured
 I can fathom all mysteries and all know
 I can maintain but have not love. I am
 like the poor and surrender my body to the flames
 nothing love is patient love is kind
 It is not proud
 It is not easily injured
 I can fathom all mysteries and all know
 like the poor and surrender my body to the flames
 nothing love is patient love is kind
 It is not proud
 It is not easily injured
